

Velvet was our personal friend so I was a little nervous about threatening our friendship. She was efficient and prompt with phone calls, emails, always professional. She was always on time, answered any questions and never felt pushy. I told her up front that too many concepts overwhelmed me so she kept my choices to a minimum, three ideas or less. I also appreciated that she did all the legwork. She had great ideas and found items that fit our budget. Velvet is easily accessible, always available, responsible, reliable, positive and enthusiastic!
